WORK RESUMED ON RELIEF GOLD MINE

BART BACK! B

Force of Five Men Engaged In Cutting a Station On the 400 Foot Level.

George Hamlin, who came in yesterday from the Relief mine north of the city, says he resumed work in the mine on the 10th with a force of five men and hopes to continue operations indefinitely. The mine is now well developed on the second and third levels. The present operations will consist in the first place of cutting a station on the 400 foot level, after which the drift on that level will be driven to the west toward what is known as the black shaft. As soon as this work is well advanced, if all plans carry, the work of sinking the shaft deeper will be taken up, for the dual purpose of opening a deeper level and adding to the water supply. The water supply of the mine comes from the bottom of the shaft and its inadequacy is the principal reason the mill was shut down when op erations stopped

The mill has given excellent service so far as reduction was concerned. It learned how the fire originated is too small to make large profits for are the only things needed to make the even though it was an afternoon fire. property a well paying mine.

THE CZAR'S GUARANTY ON HAMMERED BRASS

In the accounts of the closing out ale at Balke's Rig Curio Store it has een impossible to enumerate the de-Therefore intending pururio Store and look around.

Yesterday a lady called and saw the Russian hammered brass. She recogthat she regretted that she had not heard of it before. She had just got ome hammered brass and got something she didn't like. She could not help herself because she did not know that the Russian hammered brass ould be obtained in Phoenix.

As a matter of fact, there is nowhere dse in all the southwest where so much of it can be found as at the Big Curlo Store. There is nowhere else in Arizona where it can be procured at all. The expert knows the genuine when he sees it by the peculiar hamme marks which cannot be counterfeited One who is not an expert may know it by examination. If it is genuine hears somewhere the imperial stamp of the czar's government for the industry is in the nature of a concession granted by the government to the makers who are usually descendants of family in which the brass has been made for generations. The government protects the makers by guaranteeing the genuineness of their products.

The stock at the Bug Curio Store consists of articles so numerous that they may not all be mentioned. There are vases and jardinieres of different sizes; hanging jardinieres for ferns, hanging lanterns, candle sticks of many izes, smoking sets, ash trays, crumb trays. There are two swinging censers such as are used in the rites of the Greek church. People who are familiar with this ware express great surprise at the low price at which it is sold at the closing out sale. The prices however might not be a surprise to those who do not know a brass candlestick from a tin one with a coat of bronze fP.: WOfft-GROgfnjustf ET ET ET T
